SYNTHETIC RESIDENTIAL LEASE AGREEMENT

SYNTHETIC TEST DOCUMENT. Invented for software testing. Not a real agreement or law.

1. Parties

This Lease Agreement is made between Asha Verma (the Landlord) and Rohan Mehta (the Tenant) for the flat at 14 Lotus Residency, Pune.

2. Term

The lease begins on 1 April 2026 and continues for a period of eleven months. It may be renewed by mutual written agreement.

3. Rent and Security Deposit

The monthly rent is INR 25,000, payable on or before the 5th day of each month by bank transfer. A late fee of INR 500 applies for each week of delay.

The Tenant has paid a refundable security deposit of INR 75,000. The deposit does not earn interest.

4. Maintenance and Repairs

The Tenant shall keep the premises in good condition. Structural repairs and repairs to plumbing inside the walls are the responsibility of the Landlord.

Clause 9 - Termination

Either party may terminate this agreement by giving sixty (60) days' written notice to the other party.

The Landlord may terminate the agreement immediately if the rent remains unpaid for more than two consecutive months, or if the Tenant uses the premises for an unlawful purpose.

On termination, the security deposit shall be refunded within thirty (30) days after deducting any unpaid rent or charges.

10. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

This agreement is governed by the laws of India. The courts at Pune shall have exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute arising from it.
